Disrupting Exploitation - A Multi-Agency Effort Training

Exploitation is a complex, systemic issue that requires a collective, coordinated response. Disrupting Exploitation is designed to empower professionals at every level of safeguarding to work together in preventing harm and creating safer environments for young people.

Delivered by Safer Now, this combines expert-led training with hands-on workshops. You'll gain practical tools, strategic insights, and collaborative approaches to tackle exploitation at its roots. Together, we'll explore how multi-agency teams can share knowledge, innovate, and implement proactive, joined-up solutions.

Learning Outcomes:

- Understand the core principles of disrupting exploitation, identifying who needs to be involved and how to work collaboratively with multi-agency partners for maximum impact
- Develop strategies to target key spaces, places, and faces linked to exploitation, and use these insights to disrupt harmful behaviours and environments
- Explore and implement a range of disruption tools and strategies, considering how to adapt and apply them in your own context to prevent and address exploitation effectively.
